ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION & COMMUNITY BUILDING

EL CAMINO PINES OUTDOOR SCHOOL

*"Climb the mountains & get their good tidings.
Nature's peace will flow into you as sunshine flows into the trees... while cares drop off like the autumn leaves." - John Muir*

OUTDOOR SCHOOL is a one to five day residential program that emphasizes environmental education and community building experiences to students in elementary, middle and high school. Our courses cover several disciplines in the areas of natural, physical and social sciences. Students enjoy learning in a beautiful outdoor setting while growing together in community.

"Your amazing staff gave our students a great week. It was fun, like summer camp, but the learning environment was very professional. Thank You!"

STAFF

Our instructors have college level education, camp experience and specialized training in environmental education, First Aid and CPR.

Our mission is to provide quality learning experiences in the natural environment that teach students appreciation for nature and each other.

HISTORY

Our environmental education program began in 1972 and has expanded to serve over 1400 students annually from public and parochial schools in California.

LOCATION

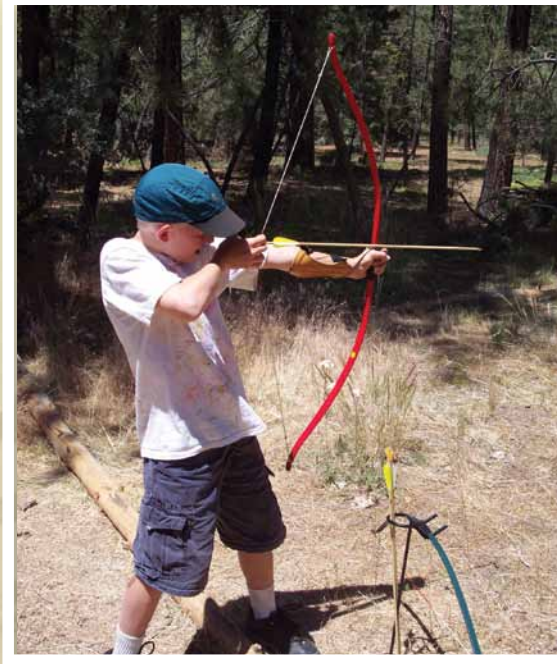

El Camino Pines is hidden in a pristine, dense forest of tall pine and oak trees, part of the beautiful Los Padres National Forest about 75 miles from Los Angeles. Sitting at an elevation of 6200 feet, we enjoy forest fresh air and four seasons. Our facilities include A-frame cabins with bunk style sleeping for 150 equipped with a bathroom, a central shower house, large dining hall and three meeting spaces. We have a community dynamics course, two rock walls, low ropes, archery, volleyball, horseshoes, outdoor campfire rings and beautiful hiking trails. El Camino Pines has some of the best camp food you will ever taste, pure mountain drinking water, incredible wildlife and a trained and caring staff.

El Camino Pines is authorized and operated under Special Use Permit issued by the Los Padres National Forest, United States Forest Service.

OVER 25 CLASSES

El Camino Pines Outdoor School provides the entire program. Your school chooses what classes you would like to take from our diverse curriculum of over 25 classes. We work in cooperation with your school to design a program that is best suited to the needs of your students. From a hike to the San Andreas Fault, to our California Trail Living History Program, where characters from the 1860's come alive, students rarely sit and listen to lecture. Our staff engages students with hands-on experiments, gripping images, and summer camp type fun.
